Realplasticsurgeon website

Non-plastic surgeons pretending to be plastic surgeons is becoming a real worry for the plastic surgery community. This is even more problematic when things go wrong, as often the plastic surgeons are blamed. We need a European campaign addressing the general public and making them aware of this danger and offering them the possibility to check whether their doctor really is a plastic surgeon!

EASAPS panel

EASAPS organized a successful panel during the ISAPS congress in Miami this month. The panel discussed the impact of Medical Tourism in Europe and the consequences for plastic surgeons as well as patients. Difficult issues such as VAT, Accreditation of facilities, differences in training of plastic surgeons and legal issues were discussed.
